

Rock-A-My-Soul

There is hardly a more expressive, a more moving, a music more alive than the Gospels, Spirituals and Jubilees as heard in the African-American churches in th USA.

In site of ever-changing music styles, which prove honversatice and actual Gospel can be presented – the message has remained the same for over 400 years: JOY!

For this reason Carole Alston considers Gospel the “musical cradle of faith. Gospels and Spirituals have been part of her life for many years. Even today, in her hometown – Washington DC they are sung during Sunday services.

Having chosen Austria as her home, she has moved and enthused many audiences, small and large (e.g. in Hofburg Kapelle with Choire Viennensis, St. Stephan's Cathedral or Karlskirche).

Carole's Gospel performances are not confined to church – many times she has filled the Musikverein with her tender then again powerful voice.
